

One Big Nation

even thus do I deplore the stream of information whose constant, relentless flow into my unwilling consciousness I am powerless to prevent

*Elisabeth Morris,
The Tyranny of Facts, 1917*

imagine there is a god who is the best of all gods imagine that we are well connected & friended unconditionally

imagine this god offers premium bandwidths
exclusive content
killer apps

imagine this god promises to make it possible to outlive the size of our dreams exceed the reach of our expectations imagine this god ensures there is nothing we cannot know that nothing is inaccessible to us

imagine that everyone gets a bedtime story imagine that everyone sees the gentle side of midnight imagine that truth is delivered with breakfast

imagine we are one big nation fed god-given breakfast-delivered truth imagine how long we have been asleep imagine we will never wake up.
